

Workshop Projects ~ Our 2012 Sampler Symposium Celebrating Arizona's Centennial

Friday night at 5 Vickie Jennett of NeedleWorkPress will present an exclusive project that she's designed for this event derived from the sampler pictured, which is steeped in Arizona history. Attendees will also receive an autographed copy of the sampler, to be released in late February in Nashville.

Next, you will be inspired to plan your 2012 Christmas ornament stitching by Darlene Anderson's slideshow of her incredible sampler ornament collection.

And then Paulette Stewart of Plum Street Samplers will present her special workshop project, "A Lady's Trimkeep," the perfect project for needleworkers of today, a place to store the wonderful trims available to us. Kit includes the linen, thread, and Crescent Colours trims. Attendees will also receive an autographed copy of Paulette's "Brother's Keeper," to be released in Nashville and while you work on your trimkeep she will give you the "back story" behind the design.

Saturday morning Darlene Anderson will begin our day with a PowerPoint presentation of her remarkable Adam & Eve sampler collection ~ this presentation on the breadth and beauty of her sampler collection will have you in awe.

After a morning break, we will get grungy with Tracy Riffle of Hands to Work leading the way while we learn to emulate her primitive "finishes" of a box and pincushion and small sampler.
